HOUSE DEMOCRATS COMPLETE PEOPLE'S WORK

CONCORD, NEW HAMPSHIRE – Today and yesterday House Democrats showed their commitment to the people of New Hampshire by continuing late into the night and then into the morning to finish the work of Granite Staters over the obstruction of House Republicans. Majority Leader Doug Ley (D-Jaffrey) released the following statement:

“I was proud of the work of the House and particularly the work of House Democrats today. Efforts by Republicans to disrupt the process including numerous motions and debates unrelated to our work purposely dragged the House session into the morning hours. Republicans, angry about being held accountable for not attending sexual harassment training, decided it was better to obstruct and deliberately delay. With the ongoing threat of COVID19 they put members health at risk. Republicans claimed to take the process seriously but had to be scolded for smoking inside of the State House and tried to adjourn the House session which would have negated all the work we had done and prevented us from finishing the bills in front of us. Democrats showed again today we are serious about governing and will continue to do the work for the people of New Hampshire.”
